

Security Assessment Categories and Certifications: Cisco CCIE, Palo Alto PCNSE, AWS-SA, F5 CSE, Fortinet NSE, Google GCP, Azure-SA, SilverPeak SPSX

Category	Service Item	Service Description
Risk and Compliance	Risk Assessments	Security risk assessments identify, assess, and implement key security controls. It also focuses on preventing security defects and vulnerabilities.
Managed Security Service	Centralized Logging	Machine generated logs are transmitted to a central location where software that is used for searching, monitoring, and analyzing machine generated data to look for security threats.
Security Architecture	Architecture, Solution Design	Understanding and advising on solutions in regards to best practice security designs.
Security Architecture	Architecture, Assessments	Evaluating and assessing the architecture and design of an existing solution to determine if it is up to our organization's security standards.
Security Architecture	IT Security	Reviewing the design and architecture of IT system security to provide guidance on how to secure endpoints, network, and what to log.
Security Architecture	VPN (Virtual Private Network)	VPN service allows employees and third parties to connect to the corporate network from anywhere. This provides a secure connection to corporate resources when on the road or to provide specific access tailored for third parties.
Security Architecture	Web Security, Firewalls	Firewalls are used to secure networks and ensure compliance with the organization's cyber security policies.

Security Infrastructure Assessment Categories

Security Architecture	Web Security, Off-Prem Filtering	The web filtering function off premises is used to block malicious content that may come through the web onto a user's endpoint device.
Security Architecture	Encryption, Full Disk Encryption	All files are automatically encrypted and the data is protected in the event that the computer is lost or stolen.
Security Architecture	AntiVirus and AntiMalware for Windows	Malware is the most common external threat to most systems, causing widespread damage and disruption.